CARLSBAD.

From the Argus.

A meeting of all the sheep owners of the county has been called for March 14 in Carlsbad, to arrange for the lambing season. The promised shortage of labor is to be met by the importation of a sufficient number of men for the different camps from Texas. To formulate a definite plan for securing these men is the purpose for which the meeting is called.

A runaway that nearly resulted disastrously occurred the other afternoon. W. L. Bobo had a couple of young lady visitors out for a ride behind his team of spirited ponies, and when on the avenue leading to The Heights, a shackle bolt slipped out, allowing the tongue of the buggy to fall about the heels of the horses, which started them running. Mr. Bobo was thrown from the buggy and was dragged several yards holding on to the reins, which were finally torn from his grasp. At the approach of the bridge the buggy was wrecked, the horses tearing loose and continuing on their mad career toward town. At the side entrance of the Schlitz, Mrs. L. Fuoss and Mrs. Beyer were occupying the former's buggy when the Bobo horses crashed into their rig from behind, causing what looked like a fatal wreck. However, the ladies miraculously escaped with a shaking up and bad scare. Their rig was almost reduced to kindling wood. The ladies in Bobo's buggy also escaped with a few small bruises, while Bobo himself was the chief sufferer, being badly scratched by gravel on the arm and side.

It would be well for those few individuals who are taking a course such as is calculated to stimulate clannishness among certain religionists of our city, to pause and reflect. This is a broad minded community, where all races and the believers of all creeds live in peace and harmony and any his family are reported as getting clannishness must necessarily react on those who would promote it.

After "Gaping Dick" Carey, Cheyenne, March 6.—A posse is close on the trail of "Gaping Dick" Carey, said to be the last of the notorious hole-in-wall gang. Last Wednesday he passed through Saratoga, en route north, twelve hours ahead of the officers. His mount is jaded, however, and it is thought he cannot escape. In view of the proposed hunting trip of President Roosevelt through Wyoming, extra effort is being made to capture the outlaw.

TULAROSA.

From the Democrat.

J. F. Hall is in from San Andreas. He brought in some fine samples of good quartz, showing free gold in good quantity, taken from claims near Salina Peak. He is highly elated and thinks that the camp will be heard of soon as one of the best in the country.

In response to an inquiry as to his experience in mountain farming he said: "I have raised as much as 20,000 pounds of Irish potatoes to the acre in the Sacramento mountains. Oats and barley yielded to beat all known records elsewhere. Wheat, oats and barley grow to perfection in Otero county."

ANSWER IT HONESTLY.

Are the Statements of Albuquerque Citizens Not More Reliable Than Those of Other Strangers? This is a vital question. It is fraught with interest to Albuquerque.

It permits of only one answer. It cannot be evaded or ignored. An Albuquerque citizen speaks here. Speaks for the welfare of Albuquerque.

A citizen's statement is reliable. An utter stranger's doubtful. Home proof is the best proof. B. H. Thomas, Rooming House, 509 South Second street, says: "I have read somewhere that lackache was generally an indication of kidney complaint and when there was added to it trouble with the kidney secretions and signs were unmistakable. When I contracted a cold both these annoyances existed and for eight months I was almost bothered continually. I finally went to the Alvarado Pharmacy for Doan's Kidney Pills and took a course of the treatment. It did exactly as promised—stopped the annoyance very promptly and very effectively."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

Frank Barton Taken for John D. Rockefeller, the Millionaire.

Depot Officer Barton is slowly recovering from an enlargement of the dome that surmounts his powerful mechanical department. Last evening, while his stalwart, stately and attractive personage was taking the usual important strides up and down the platform, a messenger boy came running up all out of breath, "Here, sign this!" said the boy in blue.

The officer quickly took the message and scanned the address. A smile covered the expansive area of his human countenance and he grew more stately and important within a few ticks of his Waterbury.

"Why, this is not for me," loftily replied the officer.

"Aren't you John D. Rockefeller?"

THE NEW COUNTY

Bill Passed Council by Unanimous Vote.

ALSO IN THE LOWER HOUSE

The Rights of Merchants and Taxpayers Being Respected.

It will now go to the governor, and no fear is expressed in regard to his signature.

The delegates here from Albuquerque are in a happy frame of mind, and are making themselves felt throughout the territorial capital.

asked the boy in surprise, looking up into the face of the elevated man.

"No," replied Barton, "do I look like an old well."

Henry Essinger, who recently returned from Colorado and left for Elizabethtown, N. M., said to a Record reporter that the humane society is purchasing horses and cattle in the San Luis valley in the Centennial state and auctioning the starving animals off to the highest bidders, the former bringing from $2.50 to $5.70 and the latter averaging only about $3 a head.

From the Optic.

News from Mesa Aragon, dated February 28, says there is lots of snow and it is still falling. It also conveys the information that the cold was not intense and that the loss of sheep would be only nominal.

Ben Wooster did not return from Santa Rosa with Charles Wells, he having found work with the Rock Island road. Wells came home last night and says the snow has been awful down there, the road running about one train a week during the storm.

J. A. Maloney and Ed. Henry got in from Fort Stanton, overland, where they have been engaged on the mason work of the government sanitarium. They report one of the toughest trips they ever had, fourteen days having been consumed in the undertaking. The snow in the Patos mountains, and on the plains between Pinos Wells and Federal was drifted in places three feet deep and it was a fight for passage from start to finish.

Jack Pettit, day caller at the round house, is sick abed with a bad case of neuralgia.

Mrs. A. B. Stanton, Jr., returned to the family hearth from Albuquerque, where she had spent a very pleasant week visiting the family of A. B. Stanton, Sr.

H. C. Williams came up from Belen to remain a few days in the Meadows. Mr. Williams reports very little snow in the Rio Grande valley, but railroad business down there rushing along at a great rate.

M. M. McShooler last week caught a native driver of one of his wagons stealing a chicken. He immediately discharged the thief, holding back his pay, which was credited against the chicken. The man, who lives at La Lliendre, went home and made complaint before the justice of the peace down there, charging McShooler with holding back his wages and slandering his character. A deputy sheriff was sent up to arrest McShooler and he was summoned down through the snow to defend his action. Mr. McShooler went down Saturday and had the case continued until today, when he went there again, armed with a counter warrant charging the native with stealing chickens. At this writing nothing has been learned as to the outcome of the case, but, however it turns out that hen of Mac's will be about as expensive a chicken as a man can afford to own.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

Henry J. Easton, who has been seriously ill for some days, was taken to St. Vincent's hospital this morning.

The correspondent of the New Mexican at El Rito, Rio Arriba county, honestly made

Levi Strauss & Co's
Copper-riveted Overalls

writes that a very severe snow storm visited the section of country in the vicinity of the towns of El Rito, Ojo Caliente and Vallecitos on Tuesday afternoon and evening last and that from eight to ten inches of snow fell. It was the worst snow storm that has visited that section for many years.

The Palace hotel is doing an excellent business these days. The hostelry deserves this good luck.

STATEHOOD TALK.

Hon. Neil B. Field, one of Albuquerque's most prominent attorneys, who was at Washington on important legal matters before the United States supreme court, returned to the city on the delayed limited yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Field was seen at his well appointed law offices this morning, and on statehood matters he spoke as follows:

"Encouragement of the idea that joint statehood would be acceptable to the people of New Mexico and Arizona, in my opinion," said Mr. Field, "destroyed any chance which the omnibus statehood bill ever had of passage."

"If the people of the three territories earnestly desire statehood and are willing to sink all political and personal differences until statehood is accomplished, I believe it will be possible to secure statehood at the next session of congress."

"I would like to see the territorial legislature provide for the assembling of a constitutional convention and the adoption of a constitution for New Mexico to be submitted to the next congress after ratification by the people, provisions for the election of state officers to be left to congress in the enabling act."

"Such action, I believe, would enormously advance the chance of success in the next congress, as it would demonstrate our ability to formulate and ratify a constitution equal to the constitutions of the older states and would remove the fear expressed by certain senators (if such a fear has been seriously entertained) that, if admitted, the constitution of New Mexico was liable to be so framed as to leave openings for the control of the new state by the Mormon church and by other influences equally chimerical."

"New Mexico has been greatly injured, in my judgment, by the course of the debates in the senate and some action should be taken to refute the slanders and abuse which have been heaped upon our people."

"A constitution, such as would be framed under the circumstances suggested, would be the best refutation which could be offered, and would have a tendency to create public sentiment in our favor in quarters where we are now looked upon as a community of outlaws and barbarians."

Some people carry a heavy stock of wisdom that never yields a dividend.

STRIKE COMMISSION.

Findings Will Be Found Favorable to the Miners.

New York, March 6.—The Herald prints a summary of the findings of the coal strike commission which it is expected will be handed to the president within a week. It will undoubtedly be an increase of 10 per cent in wages. Per diem employees are not to have pay increased, but recommended same pay for nine hours. Wherever practicable operators to be required to pay by weight. Miners will have checking representatives at their own expense. This is practically a second increase. The causes of the strike as found by the commission will not be comforting to the coal companies, but the boycott will be condemned, and the terms of the verdict are to hold good for three years.

HOTEL FIRE.

Guests Had Narrow Escapes From Fiery Deaths.

Watertown, N. Y., March 6.—Fire today destroyed the Otis house, one of the largest hotels in this city and completely ruined stores in the same block.

The hotel was crowded with guests and many narrow escapes were reported, but all the guests were rescued by means of fire escapes and ladders. The flames partially destroyed the Fairbanks block, adjoining. The total loss is estimated at $200,000. Insurance two-thirds.

WAS A WOMAN.

The Murderer Is Known But the Police Will Not Act.

Buffalo, March 6.—Despite the facts that the police and the officials of the district attorney's office have declared repeatedly and continue to assert that they were really certain of identity of the person who murdered Edwin L. Burdick, and that the person was a woman, they still hesitate to make a decisive move. An official in a position to know the exact situation was asked:

"Do you expect an arrest today?" "No, not today or tomorrow or the next day. We must have strong evidence when we arrest anybody for we know that as soon as an arrest is made lawyers are standing ready to apply for a habeas corpus writ to rush us into court and make us disclose our case at the first jump."

Pretty much everybody has been syndicated by common sense.

SENATOR GORMAN.

Chosen Chairman of Democratic Senatorial Caucus.

Washington, March 6.—The democratic senatorial caucus which met at 11 o'clock today organized by electing Senator Gorman to his old position as chairman of the caucus. He made a brief speech in assuming the chair and the conference then proceeded to other business. There were present twenty-eight of the thirty-three democratic senators. Senator Gorman's nomination as chairman was suggested by Senator Bacon and there was no opposition to his selection. On taking the chair, he thanked the senators for the honor conferred, but did not make an extended speech. The remaining time of the session was devoted largely to the discussion of the present situation in the senate and the necessity for democratic harmony and unity of action. There was a general feeling that the vacancies caused by the retirement of democratic senators from committees which have to deal with questions before the present called session should filled and it was decided that committees should be made by a steering committee of the members of these ing committee to be appointed by the chairman of the caucus, but that their selection should later be ratified by the caucus. The steering committee for the past congress has numbered only seven members, but Senator Gorman requested that number should be increased to nine, which was the number in the days of his previous chairmanship and this increase was decided upon. Mr. Gorman will make his selection of members of this committee in time to have a meeting tomorrow, when the question of supplying the vacancies on the regular committees of the senate will be taken up.

We laugh at the weakness of others, and yet we object to others laughing at ours.
